Optics and Photonics at the Hub of the Industry

Tune into this month's edition of Light Matters for some highlights from Optifab 2017, as distributors and buyers from all over the world met in the photonics industry hub of Rochester, New York. We'll also introduce you to the sales manager of Schneider Optical Machines out of Frisco, Texas. Schneider was one of the almost 200 companies present at Optifab 2017.

And, Luminate – an accelerator for optics, photonics and imaging enabled startup companies – is getting ready to fill their 10 available openings. We'll tell you about this and more on the October edition of Lights Matters!

In this month's Light Matters Extra, we give you an in-depth look at North America's largest optical fabrication exhibition and show – Optifab 2017. 188 companies filled the showroom floor of the Rochester Riverside Convention Center. Sponsored by SPIE, and co-sponsored by APOMA, the show takes place every two years. It brings buyers, distributors and academia together under one roof. SPIE's CEO, Eugene Arthurs and others from around the industry tell us more about this prestigious exhibition.
